

Introduction to Humanities

Taught by Dr. Aimee Wilson

HUM 110 - Fall 2021

What does it mean to be human? To create, to feel, to work, to consume, to play, to destroy, to inhabit a body, to communicate, to love, to strive, to die? What are our moral obligations to other animals and to each other?

What makes us different from robots, cyborgs, and artificial intelligence? What do we share cross-culturally? This course explores the experiences that define the human condition in all its current complexities.

Satisfies KU Core Goals 2.1 and 3
