

Western Civilization I, Honors

Taught online by Dr. Dale Urie

HUM 114 - Fall 2021

How we see ourselves is the foundation for our values, our choices, our relationships with each other, and our relationship with the rest of nature. Western Civilization takes on the challenge of critically examining the assumptions we and others hold regarding what it means to be human.

Honors Western Civilization I explores the Western intellectual and cultural heritage, from the Ancient world to the Protestant Reformation. It challenges us to think about what forces have shaped our worldviews and our ideas of being human.
